Babies growing in the mother's womb are known to be very receptive to emotional and sensory inputs from parents or relatives. Ritmo Advanced Pregnancy sound system, a product of NUVO Group, USA, has been designed to avail of this wonderful opportunity during the prenatal stage. Families can bond with the baby via sound and music. This is done by a fashionable and lightweight belt fitted with four speakers and a controller that fits comfortably in the pocket. The controller has a 3.5mm port that allows you to connect your portable audio devices such as iPods, PMP, Blackberrys and such. Nuvo's Patented Safe & Sound Technology regulated the sound output to a safe level for the baby.
